Pauley T Party

T party? Is this some kind of political event? No, it's not even in Boston, it's the Pauley Model T Party. Lance and Paula have hosted another excellent picnic event. Many Club members and friends met at the Pauley's home for some socializing, eating and a few games afterward. Paula prepared and served an excellent lunch, which provided us with time to catch up with each others on recent events and the all important Model T stuff. Once the eating was over, the games began. First there were two teams of four, which were tasked with exploding a watermelon with rubber bands. Each team would place rubber bands on the midsection of an upright watermelon. First melon to explode won Lottery Tickets. Next was the drawing, no not a ticket drawing, but pencil drawing, while blind folded. Each contestant, while blindfolded had to draw a Model T or an A (depending on your persuasion). A vote determined the winners. Lance's next door neighbor won 1st prize and Sharon Venski won 2nd. Pictures on Page 15.
