GermanFEST

July 26th started out as a rain maker. The weather radar showed a large area of bad weather, at least for anyone driving a Model T. So for those of us on the west side were looking at the weather minute to minute. Seemed that each time we thought of leaving, the rain returned. This affected both German Fest and The Heritage Day Parade. Yet, for those on the east side got to both events, with little or no rain at all. Well, our weather forecasting prowess is no better than the Pro's. So for those that did
